What is a Volunteer Gardener?

A garden volunteer is an essential and sometimes physically demanding role within the garden. Working as part of a team, volunteer gardeners help with the upkeep, development and conservation of Helmsley Walled Garden so that it can be enjoyed by all of our visitors.

What's in it for you?

- Being part of a friendly and dedicated team working to the highest standards of horticulture
- Meeting people from all walks of life and making new friends
- Getting your hands dirty and enjoying the outdoors
- Enjoying new experiences and learning new skills

What's involved?

- General garden maintenance: dead heading ,weeding and maintaining the borders
- Planting and harvesting produce
- Helping with the care and maintenance of vegetable, fruit and flowerbeds
- Sowing and planting and mulching
- Pruning the trees and shrubs
- Edging the paths and keeping the garden looking good
- Becoming familiar with and following Helmsley Walled Gardens Health and Safety Policy at all times
- There may times when we use your help with other tasks or activities in the garden

About Helmsley Walled Garden

Dating back to 1759, Helmsley Walled Garden nestles at the bottom of the North York Moors between the Grade One listed landscape of Duncombe Park and the scheduled ancient monument that is Helmsley Castle. The garden was a major employer during most of its history, but following the First World War, it was leased as a commercial enterprise and was run as such until 1984.

In 1984, it was abandoned and fell into dereliction. Restoration began in 1994 to bring the garden back to its original beauty and productivity. Local woman Alison Ticehurst wanted to create a beautiful garden for visitors to enjoy. She also wanted to provide somewhere for people with difficulties and disabilities to come and be supported and developed by taking part in gardening. So with a band of friends and supporters she began the task of bring the Garden back to life.

Today Helmsley Walled Garden works to conserve and restore the fabric of this historically important walled garden and make it both a beautiful garden to visit as well as a space for calm. Gardens and gardening have a wide range of therapeutic benefits and so we have two horticultural therapists working with adults with a range of disabilities and mental ill health issues.

We do this with the help of volunteers who bring a range of skills and abilities as well as their time to help us. We hope you will be inspired to join us.
